Saint Louis University is always true to its mission as an educational institution with social involvement as one of its core values. With the recent impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, many learners from both the private and public schools have been affected. The Department of Education called for student-teacher volunteers to conduct barangay-based tutorials to students experiencing varied learning and academic difficulties. Through Project REACH, Saint Louis University signed a Memorandum of Agreement with CHED-CAR headed by Dr. Demetrio P. Anduyan; DepEd-CAR led by RD Cariño, DILG-CAR headed by RD Araceli San Jose; and DOH-CAR represented by ARD Amelita Pangilinan.

Saint Louis through its different schools conducts extension and outreach activities in its selected partner agencies or communities every academic year. Its partner agencies include schools, local government units, and barangays. This is in fulfillment of one of its thrusts; i.e., extension. To note, the University has been able to assist groups in barangays in their entrepreneur activities, schools in their literacy programs, communities for hazard mapping (such as Developing a Computer-Based Barangay Hazard Map) as well as waste management activities, particularly, Designing and Implementing a 5S Program at Happy Hallow National High School and Management of Biodegradable Waste using Aerobic Composting Barrel at the Barangay Level of Baguio City.

Moreover, capacity-building trainings for teachers and other professionals, such as Curriculum Quality Audit with Ifugao State University and Blooms Software Training with the Department of Education-Cordillera Administrative Region (DepEd CAR), were conducted.
